

, the United States does not have a president in 2030 as the current president, Joe Biden, is serving a second

